

Good moring,

I believe the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. My time at home is brief and valuable to our family. I've really enjoyed not having the constant interruption from telemarketers. They seem to know when I pull into my drive way, are rude and annoying. Our evenings are peaceful and the hang ups and calls from "an unknown caller" (5-6 per day) have been greatly reduced to 2 or less per week. Indiana's law has been very effective! This law is important to me and my family. Please don't diminish it, continue to strengthen the law.

Your truly,
Darlene P. Young
